Christine A. Coletta Partner

Christine A. Coletta practices in all areas of real estate, with an emphasis on mixed-use and multifamily affordable residential development. She advises for-profit and not-for-profit clients on all aspects of real estate development, including acquisition, deal structuring, financing and commercial leasing.

Prior to joining Hirschen Singer & Epstein LLP, Ms. Coletta was an associate in the real estate department of an international law firm, where she represented real estate developers and joint venture partners in connection with the financing, acquisition and development of commercial properties. She has also held positions with the New York City Department of Housing Preservation and Development and Fifth Avenue Committee, a not-for-profit community development corporation based in Brooklyn. Ms. Coletta is admitted to practice in New York and received her Bachelor of Arts degree in 2002 from Brown University with honors in the Department of Environmental Studies. She received her law degree from Boston College Law School in 2008, where she graduated magna cum laude, Order of the Coif and was the topics editor of the Boston College Law Review and founding member of the Community Economic Development Law Group. Christine sits on the boards of directors of Center for Urban Pedagogy (CUP) and Big Initiatives, Inc.
